The COURT REPORT

Serial rapist Raymond Curtis Evans convicted by Superior Court jury of 26 counts in brutal sexual assaults against three women in their apartments. (Case No. F-7985-02; PSAs 111, 112, 314)

FACTS: Raymond Curtis Evans, 27, formerly of 723 Seventh Street, S.E. (PSA 112), was convicted of 26 counts, including 16 counts of first-degree sexual abuse while armed, three counts of burglary while armed, two counts of obstruction of justice, and two counts of aggravated assault while armed, by a Superior Court jury after a seven-day trial. At sentencing, currently scheduled for June 25, 2004, before the Honorable John H. Bayly, Jr., Evans faces the possibility of life imprisonment without the possibility of release on all sixteen counts of first degree sex abuse while armed.

According to the evidence presented by the government at trial, on November 1, 2002, a 28-year-old single female who lived in the 1000 block of L Street, S.E. (PSA 111), returned home at approximately 4:00 p.m. after spending the day running errands. As she was about to enter her apartment, she saw that the door was ajar and the defendant was standing in the doorway to her apartment. He introduced himself as "Ray-Ray" from the neighborhood. The complainant tried to leave, but the defendant blocked her path and forced her into her apartment while brandishing a knife. Once inside, the defendant raised the knife to the victim's neck and forced her into her bedroom, where he sexually assaulted her numerous times without wearing a condom. He then fled the scene.

On December 3, 2002, at approximately 8:00 p.m., a 43-year-old single female who lived alone in the 600 block of I Street, S.E. (PSA 111), heard a noise by her locked front door. She went to the front door to investigate and heard the defendant fidgeting with the mail slot. The defendant yelled through the mail slot that if she did not open the door he would shoot through it. She reluctantly partially opened the door, whereupon the defendant pushed his way into the residence, locked the door, and produced a knife. This victim has cerebral palsy, and uses arm crutches and leg braces to walk. The defendant ordered her to give him money and to have sex with him. She refused and the defendant, while holding the knife to her throat, ordered her to comply. She grabbed the knife in an effort to get the weapon from the defendant, and in the course of doing so cut her hand as well as the defendant's hand. Both were bleeding from the injuries. The defendant eventually overpowered the complainant, and forced his knee into her throat causing her to lose consciousness. The defendant then sexually assaulted the victim several times without wearing a condom, on the living room floor. The defendant then dragged the unconscious victim into her spare bedroom and sexually assaulted her several more times. Before leaving the woman's residence, the defendant forced the complainant to give him $40, and then took the battery from her cordless telephone to prevent her from calling for help. The defendant also took the clothing the victim was wearing prior to the sexual assault, and told her if she reported the crime that "he and his boys" would come back and kill her and her family.

On December 10, 2002, the defendant falsely convinced a resident of an apartment building in the 1200 block of 7th Street N.W. (PSA 314) that he was there to visit another tenant. The tenant let him into the lobby of the apartment building. At approximately 7:00 p.m., a 25-year-old female who lives alone in an apartment in that building heard a knock at her door. She thought it was her boyfriend, so she started to open the door. As this victim opened the door, she realized she did not know the individual. The defendant asked if Tyeisha was home, and the woman told him that he had the wrong apartment. The defendant then asked if he could use the telephone. The woman said she would get him the telephone, leaving the defendant in the hallway in front of her apartment door. She walked away from the front door leaving it partially ajar, and retrieved her cordless telephone. The defendant meanwhile entered the apartment and closed the door. When the woman returned with the telephone she became nervous because the defendant had entered her home without permission, but she allowed the defendant to make a telephone call. After making the telephone call, the defendant asked the woman her name, to which she responded that he had to leave and pushed him towards the door. The defendant then pulled out a box cutter and told the woman that he was not going anywhere. He then forced her into her spare bedroom, where he sexually assaulted her numerous times without wearing a condom. Before leaving her apartment, the defendant took the battery from her cordless telephone, and took the clothing she was wearing prior to the sexual assaults. He also told her “his boys” were outside and that if she called the police she would be killed.

Detective Stanley Greene, of the Metropolitan Police Department, First District, developed the defendant as a suspect, based on the description given by the three women. The detective prepared a photo array and showed the photo array to the first victim, who immediately selected the defendant as her attacker. Through a line-up, the second and third victims were able to identify the defendant as their attacker. The defendant was apprehended on December 12, 2002, in the 2700 block of Martin Luther King Avenue, S.E.

In announcing the conviction, United States Attorney Roscoe Howard praised the work of Metropolitan Police Detectives Stanley Greene, Dennis Myles, Garry Johnson, John Turman, Sabrina White, Mobile Crime Officers Gerald Wills and R. Steven Griffin, Civilian Technicians Tony Nwani and Dawn Leary, Officer Vonda Swinson, FBI DNA analyst Brendan Shea, and Victim Advocates Iris Vega, Rosie Pettway, and Veronica Vaughan. He also commended Donice Adams for administrative support, and former paralegal Olivia Ryan for her assistance. He thanked Assistant United States Attorney and Chief of the Appellate Section John Fisher, and Assistant United States Attorney David Goodhand, who assisted with various legal issues, and Assistant United States Attorney Michael Columbo, who assisted in investigating the case. He also praised Assistant United States Attorneys Anthony Scarpelli and Kate Connelly, who indicted and prosecuted the case.

Sennayi Teoume-Lessane, also known as Sanyer Teoume-Lessane, 34, formerly of 1101 Third Street, S.W., was found guilty of first-degree child sexual abuse of a 14-year-old he met in Georgetown. (Case No. F-1040-02; PSA 110)

FACTS: The evidence at trial established that during the evening of January 14, 2002, the defendant met the victim, a 14-year-old girl, in Georgetown. The defendant took the girl to a Georgetown bar, where they consumed a few drinks. The defendant then invited the victim to his apartment; she accepted the invitation but made clear that she did not want to engage in any sexual conduct. Once the two were in the defendant’s apartment, in the 1100 block of Third Street, S.W. (PSA 110), however, the defendant grabbed the victim and sexually assaulted her. After the assault, the victim passed out. When she woke up the following morning, she was tied to the defendant's bed frame with a necktie and naked from the waist down. The victim was able to get free, and she fled from the apartment. She reported the crime that very day, January 15, 2002. Teoume-Lessane, who is scheduled to be sentenced by Judge Robert I. Richter on June 30, 2004, faces up to thirty years of incarceration and a fine of $250,000. Assistant United States Attorneys Melanie Sloan, Elizabeth Carroll, and Greg Marshall prosecuted the case on behalf of the government

Antonio Ward sentenced to a total of 15 years incarceration on three Robbery Charges.
(F-2529-03, PSA 102)

FACTS: Antonio Ward (36 years old) of the 2800 block of K Street, NW, was sentenced by the Honorable Russell F. Canan to 5 years each on three counts of Robbery, with 3 years supervised release at the conclusion of his sentence. The sentences are to be served consecutively for a total of 15 years incarceration for these offenses.

On December 17, 2002, Ward was living in a halfway house while he awaited his release into the community due to his parole on previous robbery charges. On April 14, 2003, he escaped from the halfway house. Between April 19, 2003 and April 24, 2003, the defendant committed three new robberies, each with a similar fact pattern. He stood in the area of New York Avenue and North Capitol Street in Northwest Washington, D.C., near the area where those streets intersect with First, L and M Streets, N.W. (PSA 102). When the victims drove into the intersections and were stopped in traffic, the defendant approached their cars, smashed the windows with a brick or a rock, and reached into the window and took their purses.

Ward became a suspect when police received a tip, identifying him as the robber (and indicating that increased police patrols in the area were negatively impacting the drug trade). Police arrested Ward on an open warrant for Escape. After waiving his Miranda rights, Ward confessed to three of the incidents (there had been numerous others as well), and this became the basis of the plea. Assistant United States Attorney Wanda Dixon prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

Richard Atchinson sentenced to a total of five years incarceration for Arson and Attempted Arson for setting fires at office and warehouse. (Case No. F-06826-03; PSA 111)

FACTS: Richard Atchinson, age 38, of no fixed address, was sentenced by the Honorable Wendell Gardner to a total of five years incarceration for setting two fires. He received a sentence of five years incarceration, two years of it suspended, on the Arson, and three years incarceration, one year of it suspended, on the Attempted Arson, the two sentences to run consecutively, for a total of five years incarceration, two years of probation, and three years of supervised release.

According to the government's evidence in this case, Mr. Atchinson was a former employee of ABC Recycling Services. During his period of employment, he became disgruntled with the company and his supervisor, and he resigned from the company after approximately three months of employment. On November 1, 2003 in the evening hours, Mr. Atchinson went to the company and attempted to burn the offices and a dumpster belonging to the company located at 65 N Street NW. He then went to the warehouse of the company, pushed a wheeled trashcan filled with trash against the roll door of the warehouse, and set the trashcan and its contents on fire. The defendant knew that the warehouse had a night watchman's sleeping quarters on the premises, and in fact, two people were inside the warehouse at the time of the blaze. They escaped unharmed just as the fire was about to enter the building. The defendant was witnessed standing near the building seconds before the fire started, and was still on the scene when Fire department and law enforcement personnel arrived. After being taken into custody, and waiving his rights, the defendant confessed his involvement in the two fires to investigators from the District of Columbia Fire Department. He also confessed his involvement to several other fires in that location. In announcing the plea, United States Attorney Howard praised the thorough and detailed police work of United States Capital Police officers Arthur Turner, Mathew Tighe, and Paul G. West. United States Attorney Howard further commended the outstanding investigative skills of DC Fire Department Fire Investigators Gregory Bowyer and Gerald Pennington, who obtained the statement from the defendant and completed the arson investigations. U.S. Attorney Howard also commended the work of Assistant United States Attorney Wanda J. Dixon, who prosecuted the case.

Pernell Johnson, age 16, prosecuted as an adult, and sentenced to one year of incarceration under the Youth Act for Armed Robbery. (F-3508-03, PSA 103)

FACTS: Pernell Johnson, age 16, was sentenced as an adult to one year of incarceration under a special sentencing provision for youthful adult offenders (up to age 22) – the Youth Rehabilitation Act – by the Honorable Russell Canan, following his plea to Armed Robbery. Judge Canan sentenced Johnson to seven years of incarceration, suspending all but one year. The judge noted that he was imposing incarceration because of the defendant's decision not to cooperate concerning the other person who committed the robbery with him, as well as the second car load of individuals traveling with him the night he was caught.

The evidence at the plea proceeding established that on June 13, 2003, at approximately 10:52 p.m., in the unit block of K Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. (PSA 103), two persons were approached by the defendant and another male. The defendant had a gun and stated "Give up everything you got." One victim gave the defendant $20.00 in U.S. currency. The defendant then approached the second victim and ordered her to get out of her 1998 Honda Accord, beige in color, bearing Massachusetts tags. The defendant and the second subject then entered the car and fled the scene.

The following day, June 14, 2003, at approximately 9:11 p.m., at the intersection of 3rd and Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., an officer observed the stolen 1998 Honda Accord drive into the 3rd Street tunnel at a high rate of speed. Ironically, the police initially spotted another stolen vehicle that appeared to be following the car driven by the defendant. The car driven by the defendant car was stopped on the I-395 exit ramp to South Capitol Street at I Street, S.W. The other vehicle pulled along the side of the road (presumably, so that the occupant could observe what was happening with respect to the defendant). As the police approached, they found that the defendant was operating the car with a juvenile in the passenger seat. Recovered from underneath the driver's seat was a loaded black ROHM R-24 .22 caliber fully operational revolver. Upon realizing that the defendant was being placed under arrest, the other vehicle sped away, swiping 3 other cars, and nearly running over a Park Police Officer. A high-speed chase ensued involving the other vehicle, but the driver crashed the car and successfully eluded the police. The defendant gave a videotaped statement in which he admitted to purchasing and possessing the handgun, committing the armed carjacking and operating the carjacked vehicle. The defendant, however, denied any knowledge of the other vehicle at his arrest and denied that he had committed the carjacking with another individual.

Sergeant Nicholas Breul, Officer Bryan McCallister, and First District Detective Antonio Duncan investigated the case. Assistant United States Attorney Michael Ambrosino prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

Florida private investigator Eric Beddow sentenced to 10 days in jail, following conviction by Superior Court jury for illegally possessing, in the District of Columbia, pistol lawfully registered to him in his home state. (F-31740-03, PSA 106)

FACTS: The Honorable Lynn Leibovitz sentenced Florida private investigator Eric Beddow to 10 days incarceration, following his conviction by a Superior Court jury of Carrying a Pistol without a License, Unregistered Firearm, and Unregistered Ammunition. Judge Leibovitz imposed a 999 day sentence for CPWL, and 365 day sentences on the UF and UA charges, but suspended all but 10 days on each sentence, and made them concurrent.

The government's evidence at trial established that, late in the evening of May 29, 2003, Officer Keaveny of the Fairfax Co. Police conducted a traffic stop of the defendant's car because the defendant made an illegal left turn out of a shopping center. When asked by Officer Keaveny if he had anything on him that Officer Keaveny needed to know about, the defendant responded "I have a gun in the car." The defendant had a loaded .40 caliber semi-automatic handgun, another fully loaded magazine, and an additional 95 rounds of .40 caliber ammunition. Officer Keaveny ran checks on the gun, and apparently the defendant legally owned the gun in Florida (the defendant's home state), and therefore legally possessed it in Virginia. Officer Keaveny asked the defendant what he was doing in the area, and the defendant replied that he was on vacation and planned to visit the U.S. Capitol the next day. He also explained that he owned the gun because he was a private investigator. Officer Keaveny warned the defendant that even though he legally possessed the gun in Virginia, bringing the gun into the District of Columbia would be illegal. The defendant was then given a citation for a moving violation and sent on his way.

Officer Keaveny called the U.S. Capitol Police (USCP) later that evening and gave USCP the defendant's information along with his picture, and the USCP gave out that information to its officers at the next morning's roll call. The next day, May 30, 2004, two officers of the USCP observed the defendant walking on the U.S. Capitol grounds. The officers conducted a Terry stop and confirmed that the defendant was indeed the person on the bulletin. The defendant did not have the gun on him, but he eventually told the police that the gun was in his car, which was parked by Union Station, about 10 blocks away from where he was stopped. The car was located, and in the car was the gun and the bullets.

The defendant took the stand and admitted to bringing in the gun to DC. However, the jury understood that ignorance of the law is no excuse, and convicted the defendant. Assistant United States Attorney Louis Ramos prosecuted the case on behalf of the government.

Simon Banks was found guilty in Superior Court for improperly holding himself out as an “administrative law judge” in violation of Court Order. (Case No. S01008-04)

FACTS: Simon Banks, 65, formerly of the District of Columbia and operating as Judge Banks Group at 1800 Diagonal Road, Alexandria, Virginia, was found guilty in D.C. Superior Court. Banks is scheduled to be sentenced by Judge Noel Kramer on May 27, 2004. At sentencing, Banks faces a maximum term of imprisonment of 2 years and probation for up to five years.

According to the government’s evidence, Banks willfully violated a District of Columbia Court of Appeals injunction, issued in 1995, prohibiting him from: a) using the term “Administrative Law Judge” or similar terms that reasonably denote that his former employment as a hearing examiner constitutes a qualification or license to practice law in the District of Columbia; b) describing his business as providing nationwide representation; or c) using documents that do not contain specific language noting that he has never been admitted to practice law. Banks placed advertisements in the Federal Times, and on WJZW-FM 105.9 radio and sent correspondence that all described him as a former Administrative Law Judge and included language about nationwide representation. Banks also made similar representations during a recorded telephone call.

In announcing the conviction, United States Attorney Roscoe Howard praised Investigators Diane Eickman and Duncan Templeton who assisted in the investigation, and Assistant United States Attorneys Thomas Zeno and John Griffith, who investigated and prosecuted this matter.

Phillip Douglas pled guilty in Federal District Court to False Personation and Fictitious Statements to gain access into the Library of Congress. (Dist. Ct. Case No. 04-0142; PSA 101)

FACTS: On April 15, 2004, Phillip Douglas also known as Reginald David Johnson, Raymond Roger Jones, Roger Turner, and David Jackson, 29, pled guilty in United States District Court to one count of false personation of an officer or employee of the United States and one count of false and fictitious statements. He faces a maximum prison term of three years for false personation and five years for false and fictitious statements when the Honorable Ricardo M. Urbina sentences him on August 10, 2004.

On February 3, 2004 the defendant entered the Library of Congress by way of a pedestrian tunnel connecting the Cannon House Office Building and the Library of Congress James Madison Building. The area was restricted to employees and those escorted by employees holding valid identification. The defendant presented an official 108th U.S. Congressional identification card that had been reported lost by its female owner in November 2003. When confronted by a Library of Congress police officer, that the identification was not his, the defendant insisted that he was a Congressional employee. He maintained that the identification card belonged to a friend and that he was going to return it later that evening. The defendant identified himself as Raymond Roger Jones although he was wearing a nametag with the name Reginald on it. He then pretended to use a cell phone and maintained that the person on the other end of the phone said he left his identification on his desk in the Congressional officer where he was employed. The officer inquired as to whether he had identification in the black leather laptop computer bag he was carrying. When the defendant opened the bag, it revealed a passport belonging to another female. The bag and its contents were seized and the defendant was told he needed proper identification to obtain the property. It was determined that he did not work for the Congressional office identified and the valid owner of the lost identification card did not know him or give him permission to use the card.

In announcing today's guilty plea, United States Attorney Roscoe Howard praised the thorough and professional investigation of Library of Congress Sergeant Benjamin Greene and United States Capitol Police Special Agent Andre Pecher, the awareness of Sergeant Dianne Ashton, and the work of Assistant U.S. Attorney Brenda J. Johnson, who prosecuted the case.

Ellen Ruth Sassower of New York was found guilty of Disruption of Congress. (Appellate Case 04-081785; PSA 101)

FACTS: Elena Ruth Sassower, 47, of White Plains, New York, was found guilty on April 20, 2004, by a Superior Court jury of one count of Disruption of Congress. Sassower will be sentenced on June 1, 2004, before the Honorable Brian F. Holeman, at which time she faces a maximum sentence of six months in jail and a $500 fine.

According to the government's evidence at trial, on May 20, 2003, the United States Capitol Police received a report from the office of Senator Hillary Rodham Clinton that Sassower, who had called the Senator's office multiple times to express her opposition to a nominee to the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, might attempt to disrupt a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing scheduled for May 22, 2003. Special Agent Deborah Lippay contacted Sassower and asked her whether she intended to disrupt the hearing, but Sassower refused to answer. Detective William Zimmerman also spoke to Sassower and warned her that while she was welcome to attend the hearing, she would be arrested if she did anything to disrupt it.

On May 22, 2003, Sassower went to the hearing and, at approximately 3:30 p.m., shouted over the presiding Senator, the Honorable Saxby Chambliss, as he was bringing the hearing to a close. When the Senator called for order and instructed everyone to remain seated, Sassower stood and loudly demanded three times, “Are you directing that I be arrested?” Sassower also clung to a chair in order to prevent United States Capitol Police officers from escorting her out of the room. The officers eventually removed Sassower and placed her under arrest for Disruption of Congress.

In announcing the verdict, United States Attorney Howard praised the work of Capitol Police Detective William Zimmerman, Special Agent Deborah Lippay, Sergeant Kathleen Bignotti, and Officer Roderick Jennings. He also commended United States Attorney’s Office paralegal Nathan Bresee, who provided invaluable assistance in preparing this case for trial, and Assistant United States Attorneys Aaron Mendelsohn and Jessie K. Liu, who investigated and prosecuted the matter.
